INDIANS TRIM TRINITY; READY FOR HATCHETITES

Stage Being Built For Installation

PLANS FOR INDUCTION ON OCTOBER 19th OF DR. CHANDLER ARE PRACTICALLY COMPLETED.

The stage from which President Harding and Dr. J. A. C. Chandler will make their addresses when the latter is installed as president of the College of William and Mary on October 19, is rapidly assuming shape in the court back of the main building, between the chapel and fine arts wing. The various lights and decorations for the induction ceremonies are being put up, and it looks as if the college will be a blaze of colors when the President of the United States visits the President of William and Mary.

The replies to invitations, sent to college presidents and patriots and learned societies of the country, are coming fast now, and it looks as if practically every college in the country over one hundred years of age will be represented. In addition to these every college in the Old Dominion will send its representative to wish the old college and its brilliant president well. Prominent men and women from all over the nation have written saying they will be here for the exercises.

In addition to the invited guests, who will participate in the academic procession, there will be hundreds of people from Richmond, Norfolk and Newport News who will make this city their Mecca that day, for William and Mary is becoming more and more THE Peninsula college.

About fifty students have been sworn in to relieve the city police department of this added work, and will have the power of arrest for any disorderly conduct. A band of stu-

Students Celebrate Victory With Big Bonfire

TRIBUTE PAID TEAM WHEN NEWS OF THE VICTORY REACHED COLLEGE.

Very appropriately was the initial victory of the season celebrated by a big bonfire around which many Indian chiefs and squaws gathered to pay tribute to their valiant football warriors, who had just succeeded in taking the scalps of that foreign tribe of Collegians in North Carolina known as Trinity.

The fire was held on Saturday night just after the speaking of Senator Trinkle, and verily many young "Ducs" and "Duceses," as well as alumni of prominence such as Lloyd Warren, Osie French and Alf Mapp did display their abilities as orators. Even our dear old shipmate and college chump, "Speed" Barnes took the box, minus his familiar cud of Climax. Misses "Duc" Sterling, "Duc" Lawless and "Duc" Zehmer helped out the program with prose, poetry, and song.

DEATH OF PROFESSOR HODGES' FATHER

It was with deep regret that the student body of the college learned of the death of Prof. William T. Hodges' father at the family residence in Chatham, Virginia.

Prof. Hodges left Sunday to attend the funeral services and returned on Wednesday. We extend our deepest sympathy in his sad bereavement.

Scrubs Look Strong in Their Two Games

HAVE SCORED 72 POINTS TO OPPONENTS 0. — COUNSELLMAN WELL PLEASED.

In two games the William and Mary scrubs have scored 72 points and held their opponents scoreless.

Camp Eustis fell an easy prey on October 1, losing 49 to 0. On October 8 the Scrubs defeated the Shipyard Apprentice team in Newport News by a 23-0 score.

The victory of Professor Counselman's Scrubs over Apprentice was mighty pleasing to their mentor, for last year our second team was defeated by the battleship movers. Incidentally, the Shipyard team lost its first game in two years.

Reviewing the game, the Daily Press stated, in part, as follows:

The game started with the Apprentices receiving the ball and taking it to the fifteen-yard line. They got as far as the six-year line when with a yard to go they lost the ball. William and Mary ploughed through for a little, then tried a drop kick, which failed, and the Apprentices got hold of the ball again. However, when forced to kick, their punter didn't do much with it, with the result, with a few yards to go, Sumner placed a drop kick from the twenty-yard line for the team's first score.

The two teams battled for the rest of the half, all the favor being in the college boys' hands. The half ended around midfield, with the ball in the possession of the college boys on ac-

Fincher's Men Show More Power on Offensive Than in the Tech Game.—Defense Was Far Superior to Previous Showing.

TODD MISSES TWO GOALS

Technicalities Kept Score Lower Than it Should Have Been

William and Mary College varsity took its seat on Winners' Row on October 8 when it defeated Trinity College at Durham, N. C., by a 12-0 score.

The Indians scored in the first and fourth quarters. Line bucks soon after the start of the game carried Fincher's boys to the twenty-yard line, from which spot Joice Levvy skirted right end for a touchdown. Hastings took the ball over for the second score, after a twenty-yard heave and line plunges had carried the pigskin to within scoring distance. Todd missed both tries for goals.

Trinity got to the Indians' forty-yard line on only one occasion. For the greater time the Carolinians remained on the defensive.

A third touchdown was scored, but the referee ruled the play was illegal. In breaking up a pass by the opposition, Harwood barely touched the ball, but deflected it into the arms of John Todd, who ran forty yards and planted the ball back of Trinity's goal posts. The decision of the referee was that the impetus of the play came from William and Mary.

Again, in the closing minutes, Harwood dashed across Trinity's line to receive a pass. Trinity intercepted the ball, but Harwood downed the receiver back of his own goal line. Coach Fincher claimed a safety, and two points, but again the referee overruled his protest. The ball was given to Trinity on its twenty-yard line, and after one play the game ended.

The Indians' offensive showed improvement. Trinity's line averaged 170, as against about 185 for William and Mary, but the Methodists had a backfield that averaged 165 pounds, thus outweighing the Indians in this department.

Joice Levvy was the outstanding star for the Indians, both in ground gained, and in running back punts. Once he took a kick and ran it back forty yards. Relieving his brother,

Trinkle Entertained At College Saturday

Democratic Nominee Heard by Large Audience, Half of Which Were Students

Senator E. Lee Trinkle, Democratic nominee for governor of Virginia, was the guest of Dr. Chandler Saturday night, when the Democratic standard bearer addressed the voters of James City county and Williamsburg in the handsome new high school auditorium. Nearly half the audience of five hundred people who heard Senator Trinkle speak were students. The attendance was highly gratifying to those who arranged for the address.

In the dining hall Saturday night, where Dr. Chandler entertained the Number Important Matters Are Discussed by Members at Home of Dr. Young

The Flat Hat Club held its second meeting of the year on the night of October 6 in the home of Dr. R. C. Young. Those present were Dr. Cary Jacob, Professor J. C. Lyons, Professor R. K. Gooch, and the following student members: Dan Burfoot, John Garland Pollard, Jr., J. C. Phillips, and R. C. Harper. Dr. W. A. Montgomery was in Norfolk lecturing to an extension class, and Ferdie Chandler was laid up with a broken leg.

Delegates Visit Williamsburg, William and Mary College, and Jamestown,

By the time this is read the delegates to the Brotherhood of St. Andrews convention in Norfolk will have visited Williamsburg and the college, and returned to the convention city, for the final meeting of the assembly before adjourning until next year.

The delegates, numbering well over six hundred, are to go to Jamestown from Norfolk by boat, and after inspecting the little island "Cradle of the Republic," are to come to this city, and go over the buildings of the college. Handbooks setting forth all

Dances to Be Held October 20 and 21

Music Will Be Furnished By Wiedemeyer's Orchestra.—
Many Alumni To Be Here.

The opening Dances at William and Mary College will be held in the gymnasium of the new Jefferson dormitory on Thursday and Friday, October 20 and 21.

Announcement that music will be furnished by Wiedemeyer's orchestra, of Huntington, West Va., gives assurance that alumni in large numbers will be here for the first hops of the college year. This orchestra is one of the best known in Southern circles, and will make its initial appearance here on October 20-21.

President Warren G. Harding will visit William and Mary and speak on October 19. Decorations in the new girls' dormitory will be preserved for the opening dances. The fact that the nation's chief executive will be here the day before the first hops will bring a larger number of alumni here than has ever been the case at this time of the year.

A number of out-of-town girls will be present, and students, alumni and invited guests are looking forward to the dances with great pleasure.

LITERARY SOCIETIES ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

The Phoenix Literary Society held its initial meeting in the Phoenix Hall Wednesday, October 5th. At this meeting sixty-three new members entered their names upon the roll book as members of the society. The Phoenixians expect to do great work in the forsenic field this year, having such a large membership from which the best orators and debaters can be selected.

The Philomathean Literary Society held its first meeting Friday, October 7th. Several new members were initiated into this society. However, not as many of the freshmen came out to this meeting as was expected. It is hoped that a larger number of freshmen will join this literary society, so that the membership of the two literary societies will be about equally divided. An approximate equal membership in the two societies will promote the keen rivalry that has always existed between the Phoenix and the Philomathean. The strong rivalry will aid materially in bettering the work of both societies, as they will be competing with each other in the contests that are held during the year.

With such a large enrollment in the two societies, the college feels sure that the representatives from William and Mary in joint contests with other colleges of the State will be equal to the occasion, and expects many honors in the forsenic field to be won by her representatives. All freshmen should join one of the literary societies. It is your duty to join one and help make it a success.

Dr. Hamilton Speaks At Y. M. C. Exercises

Dr. W. A. Hamilton, associate professor of law in the College of William and Mary, was the speaker for the service of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday, October 7th. Dr. Hamilton used for the subject of his address, "Service."

The text of his discussion was, "I am among you as one who serves." Dr. Hamilton traced the beginning of service with the individual and extending to the nations as the fundamental basis of humanity's progress and welfare. He pointed out that Christ was the man of 100 per cent service in spite of human tendencies and agencies, and placed Him before the minds of the student body as a man supreme; demanding 100 per cent service from the students of the college.

TWO PARTIES GIVEN FOR THE CHI OMEGAS

On Tuesday, October 4th, Mrs. Bennett entertained the members of the Chi Omega Fraternity with an informal "house warming." After talking around an open fire, Mrs. Bennett served very original refreshments. The new kind of party made a great hit with everyone.

The following afternoon, Mrs. Garrett served tea to the chapter. Everything was decorated with the fraternity colors, cardinal and straw, and the color scheme was carried out even in the refreshments, which were delicious. Mrs. Garrett had thought up some new games and these helped make the party a success.

Y. W. C. A. HOLD TWO SERVICES AND BLOCKER SPEAKS

Dr. D. J. Blocker was the speaker at the Y. W. C. A. services in the chapel October 4, taking as his subject, "Hold On." As the expression is used by Dr. Blocker, it means "holding on" to good name, character, and high ideals, however great the temptation to let them go.

On October 12, there was another meeting. The topic discussed was, "The Various Angles of the Triangle."

count of Jester intercepting a forward pass.

At the start of the second half William and Mary kicked to the Apprentice boys, failing to gain, kicked back to the William and Mary team. They, too, were unable to gain and Sumner then booted a long one, which Herman should have caught, but instead let drop, thinking Lewis would nab it; he fumbled it as Jenkins hit him and Smith, the right guard, grabbed it and ran for the first touchdown a few minutes after the third quarter started. Jester failed to kick goal. This touchdown was presented to the Indians, as it was exceedingly poor playing on the part of Herman that allowed them to make it.

It was not long before they got their second touchdown, when the Apprentices did some more fumbling. They decided on their fifteen-yard line after holding the college boys, who had got to the one-yard line on downs, to kick. Riggins broke through, blocked the kick, and Smith ran over to the side and fell on the ball for the second touchdown. Jester this time kicked goal. The third touchdown was scored in about five more minutes of play, when the college team got a couple of good forward passes off, one to Sumner by Cofer, who ran for about fifteen yards, being a beauty. They then worked the ball down the field a bit, and another forward pass, Cofer to Riggins, carried the ball over, and Jester kicked goal, making the score 23 to 0.

The fourth quarter was a sizzler, with both teams resorting mostly to kicking and the aerial attack. Mittlemier for the Apprentices intercepted a forward pass, ran twenty-five yards and had he kept on going straight instead of looking around, would have gotten a touchdown. As it was, Jester just did get him, getting over to the play fast. They came within about five yards from scoring when they lost the ball, the Indian line holding like a stonewall near their goal, Jones being tackled about a yard from the goal post. The William and Mary team then kicked out of danger and the game ended with the ball in the midfield.

Game With G. W. U. to Be Hard Fought One

Team in Good Shape, And is Proving Much Stronger On the Offensive

Against George Washington in Norfolk tomorrow, the Indians will face a critical test. The old team has faith in Coach Fincher's plays, and the men running interference are showing better form. They must travel at top speed to win from the capital city aggregation.

Both offense and defense showed improvement against Trinity College. The Georgia Tech shift play cannot be broken up when each man does his part. The varsity players have mastered the signals, and as a result display more punch in their attack.

During the week Coach Fincher experimented with shifts in his line. Todd, who came here as a center and who played right tackle against Trinity, was placed at left tackle, next to Harwood and Young. Pat Fuller continues as varsity center. Sorg was changed to right tackle. Sorg is a powerful charger, and if he improves his play this week, he will have a regular berth assured.

Wilson, guard and captain, has been handicapped with a bad knee, and last week in scrimmaging he got a blow on his back that didn't do him any good. He is fighting all the time, and if he can round into his true form, he will prove mighty handy to have around.

The beginning of the week saw Cofer added to the varsity squad. The big fullback looks like the best line smasher in college, with Tommy Jordan on the injured list. Cofer tore through the Camp Eustis and Apprentice elevens in great style.

The form shown by the Levvy brothers, Joice and Lionel, is pleasing to the coach, for they give him a strength in the backfield that few colleges in this State possess.

Injured Men to Play In Tomorrow's Game

Jones, Jordan, White and Brownlee May Play Against Hatchetites

Three regulars of last year's eleven, White, Jones, and Jordan, who were kept out of the Trinity game owing to injuries, detached themselves from hospital seclusion the first part of this week and donned gridiron togs again. They were warmly welcomed by the coach, and squad.

White, now almost recovered from a shoulder injury, probably will play an important part in tomorrow's Norfolk seance, provided he is in good condition. Jordan and Jones, too, should be on the line of scrimmage when play begins in the Tidewater City. "Bake" had a bad knee, and Tommy had trouble with ligaments in his hip.

Two other promising lads, Brownlee, end, and Keister, sub tackle, reported this week, after nursing injuries. Brownlee, hurt in the training season a week before the opening game with V. P. I., went home to nurse a swollen right knee. He came back to college Monday. Keister was sick last week, hence he was not taken to North Carolina. Brownlee gets down fast under punts, and is a player of the driving, smashing type. When he recovers form, he will be a big aid to the Indians, unless all indications are upset.

The Second Guess

Two victories in one day! More power to the varsity and scrubs.

Results of games played by Virginia teams were as follows:

W. & M., 12; Trinity, 0. Scrubs, 23; Apprentice, 0. University of Virginia, 14; University of Richmond, 0. Washington and Lee, 27; Emory and Henry, 0. Hampden-Sidney, 21; Randolph-Macon, 0. Center, 14; V. P. I., 0. V. M. I., 20; Wake Forest, 0. Roanoke College, 40; Randolph-Macon Academy, 0. Lynchburg College, 15; Elon, 7.

"Indians Beat Trinity While Locals Trail the Papooses." Thus read an eight-column streamer in last Sunday's edition of the Newport News Daily Press. Publicity of the right kind never hurt any one.

Coach Fincher says he has only one hole to be plugged before his line rates a high mark. And he expects it to be filled before many days elapse.

Louisiana State, in beating State Normal 78 to 0, rolled up the largest score in the country on October 8. Georgia Tech massacred Davidson 70 to 0. The other extreme was scoreless battles between Williams and Bowdoin; Amherst and Tufts; Stevens and Haverford; Susquehanna and Mount St. Marys, and Alleghany College and Alfred University.

Other games of interest resulted as follows: Yale, 34; North Carolina, 0. Penn State, 35; Carolina State, 0. Navy, 53; Western Reserve, 0. Pitt, 21; West Virginia, 13. Princeton, 19; Colgate, 0. Harvard, 19; Indiana, 0. George Washington, 20; Western Maryland, 0.

TRINITY BOWS TO INDIANS; SCORE, 12-0; LEVVY STARS

Lionel, who was hurt in scrimmage two days before the game, Joice gave the Indians new life and dash. Flanders ran good interference, and the work of Fuller, Todd and Young in the line was splendid. Harwood called signals, and played his usual good game at end.

Captain Wilson, who was kicked in the back in scrimmage before the Trinity melee, gave way to Bennett, who in turn was succeeded by Lowman.

The Indian squad did not arrive in Durham until after midnight Friday, October 7, and many of the regulars did not sleep after 8 o'clock. Owing to this circumstance, the team did not do as well as might have been expected under more favorable conditions, but the smoothness displayed was very gratifying to Coach Fincher.

Trinity began playing football again last fall after an absence of twenty-five years from intercollegiate contests. The line-up and summary follows:

W. & M.	Position	Trinity
Harwood	Left End	Shule
Sorg	Left Tackle	Leach
Young	Left Guard	Taylor
Fuller	Center	Midgett
Wilson	Right Guard	Caldwell
Todd	Right Tackle	Derrickson
Dietz	Right End	Pennington
Flanders	Quarterback	Smith
Hastings	Left Half	Neal
Levvy	Right Half	Sawyer
Joyner	Fullback	Barrett

Summary: Henderson, referee; Norton, umpire; Rowe, head linesman. Time of period, twelve minutes. Substitution for Trinity: Moore for Shule; McNairy for Sawyer; Hatcher for Derrickson; Crute for Barrett; Rose for Caldwell; Garrett for McNairy; English for Smith; Barrett for Crute; Smith for English; Caldwell for Rose; Hucklea for Pennington; Worsley for Leach; Stanrod for Neal. For William and Mary: J. Levvy for L. Levvy; Peters for Flanders; Chalkley for Joyner; Bennett for Wilson; Lowman for Bennett.

THEN FUR FLEW

"I should say we did!"

"And did you kiss her good-night every day?"

"WE NEVER THOUGHT IT"

Five years ago we attended this college for the first time. The football team won a game, and a bonfire was planned. It was cold, a gusty wind made us shiver down our backs. But we clustered around that fire, and how we did yell. The cheer leaders weren't alone in their hoarseness. After a number of yells had been wafted from our lungs to arouse the populace of the sleepy city, a shirt tail parade was called for, and the pace was a fast one. This was largely due to the fact that the faster one moved the less one stood a chance of being hit by every old man around the ring.

Next year the thing was repeated in all its details, and this time it was the armistice celebration. Details were the same as the year previous.

But after that there came a change. Bonfires became to be too much of the alleged funny, and less of the spirited side. There were more silly speeches, and less yells and pep raising speeches by William and Mary men—and consequently, less attendance.

Finally the climax came last Saturday night. A bonfire was called for, and out of a student body of six hundred, about two hundred were out. The best thing about the whole affair was, we hate to say, the fire. Talks were made by some of the old alumni who were back, and members of the team. Some of the yells could be heard on the other side of the fire. But the rest! After two hundred and twenty-eight years of existence the students had to call on a woman student and an incompetent to tell them what college spirit was. These two utterances were interspersed with a few inane remarks by "Ducs" shoved on the temporary stump.

We always have understood that a bonfire is a glorious celebration of some sort of a victory, and not a place for a lot of so-called humor and alleged entertainment. Another thing we thought we had learned was that "Ducs" were to be seen, and not heard at a bonfire, instead of getting up and having the affront to try and tell men who have attended William and Mary for two, three, four, and in some cases, five years, what college spirit is and "how to get it." These "Ducs" should all open correspondence schools and sell their stuff. "Life" would like it.

But the "Ducs" are not in the wrong entirely. Someone probably got them to get up, and play the Falstaff. But how did they do it, for the new rule is that the person of a "Duc" is sacred property, and not to be touched under any circumstances.

The Flat Hat, and a number of students, then, offer the suggestion that at the next bonfire there be more of college spirit, and less "small town stuff." Get someone who can make a nice talk to speak on college spirit, especially the glorious spirit that this

HELP MAKE IT A SUCCESS!

As the Flat Hat this year is more than ever a student publication, it is necessary that it get not only the financial, but the working assistance of the entire student body. To that end, the editorial staff invites each and every student to use the columns of the Flat Hat as a medium for expressing student opinion on current happenings on and off the campus. Any notes, news articles, poems or jokes will be greatly appreciated by the staff. Please remember that it is next to impossible to cover exactly every thing that happens around college, and let us know through the Flat Hat box in front of the Main Building of anything that would be of interest to the student body.

college is noted for. Go through our list of yells, all three of them, and then repeat, ad infinitum. Make everyone there yell so much they'll have as strong a voice as the oyster. Have a war dance, a few more repetitions of the regular yells, sing Alma Mater, and then go to bed. Then, gentlemen, will old Father Blair turn back for another rest, confident that his bequest to the world is holding her own in all collegiate endeavors—and also in her college spirit.

COLLEGE INSIGNIA

We have noticed lately that a number of students who have transferred here from other schools continue to wear some sort of insignia of the college last attended. Is this fair to William and Mary?

The student is getting from her professors the knowledge necessary to make his life a useful and happy one, and from her history and traditions he is getting American ideals that no other college in the country can give to him. Yet he comes here, and while studying within her hallowed walls, wears insignia bearing silent witness of another Alma Mater.

Belt buckles, which seem to be predominating—in fact, universal—collegiate insignia, are useful articles. All men know of one of their uses, and we don't mean the use father had for a belt in place of a paddle. But the belt buckle has still another use. With some school monogram engraved upon it, it is seen by everyone, and therefore by many people away from the college. This serves as a fine advertisement for any college. Is William and Mary being advertised by all the students of the college, or are they being educated here, and helping increase the enrollment of some other educational institution by their silent, but highly effective advertising? Ask yourself.

WE STILL WANT YELLS

Remember the game with the Spiders Thanksgiving Day! We, and by "we" is meant the entire student body, will be in the capital city at the ball park to cheer William and Mary on in the contest with Richmond University.

What are we going to use that day for yells? The "trio," probably, and the worn out rays and rahs that have prevailed here since Hector was a canine. Those three or four are all that William and Mary can claim, as original COLLEGE yells, for a number of others have been plagiarized in whole or in part, and the remainder would do credit to Whick-Whack Academy; or, maybe Miss Mary Jane Smith's distinguished institution has more up to date ones.

The Flat Hat in the last issue asked for some yells, and got ONE. To be frank, we were more than disappointed. We were—well, more than disappointed.

Up in Richmond if we start pulling any of the tootie-toot-toot stuff, it will be awful compared to the yells that Richmond University rooters will be chanting; and the impression will be equally as poor. V. P. I., V. M. I., U. Va., and other colleges in the State have original yells and songs with pep in them, why hasn't William and Mary? Can it be that we are too lazy, too busy, too satisfied, or—utterly lacking in college spirit?

FLAT HAT TO APPEAR NEXT WEDNESDAY

The next issue of the Flat Hat will appear at 3 o'clock the afternoon of October 19, Installation Day. It will be larger than the regular numbers, and we hope, a bit more interesting. Copies will be circulated among the guests to the induction ceremonies, and the student will be given theirs in the dining hall at supper.

Remember, all students boarding in the dining hall get their Flat Hat delivered on their plates. Those eating elsewhere get theirs through the mail. Better be on hand at supper Friday nights—Wednesday night next week—to insure getting a copy.

Personals

Eustace Gunn, alumnus, spent last week-end at the college. Welcome back, "Useless" Gunn.

Miss Miriam Winder had some friends spending the week-end at the college.

That red head and broad grin of "Speed" Barnes sure is a good sight for sore eyes on the campus again. Confidentially, he said that he thought the campus was getting to be more attractive every day.

Miss Mary B. Zehmer had up from Norfolk for Sunday Miss Louise Doyle and party.

Our faithful alumnus and stanby, Lloyd E. Warren, was with us again for the week-end, attended the bonfire, made a speech, and everything. He must have liked sitting on the jury of the Supreme Court. Other alumni take note of the regularity of his visits.

Osie French showed up again last week after a prolonged absence of about seven months. His speech at the bonfire sounded as if he might be a publicity agent for "Monk" White.

It was a good wind that blew old Alf Mapp into our midst during the past week. Same old Alf, same old college spirit. He lamented the fact that paddles were not in vogue this year and that girls were making speeches from boxes. "Them was the good old days, Alf."

The student body is glad to welcome "Duc" Guy E. Brownlee back after his recovery from injuries sustained on Carey Field sometime ago. He says he is ready for business again and "raring" to go.

Miss Mildred Dennis, of Norfolk, spent the week-end with her cousin, Miss Anna Bell Dennis.

Earl B. Thomas, an alumnus of the college, who did great work in helping out our alumni endowment drive across from his New York office, is at the college in connection with the visit of President Harding on the 19th.

Miss Alice Walker, formerly of Norfolk, now of Newport News, visited the college on last Sunday.

Coach "Bill" Fincher blew in Sunday a. m. with a broad grin on. Looked like he had been annexing a scalp. We noticed several other hooks on his belt for other scalps and one large one with a safety clasp on it for Richmond College. (Come on, Richmond College.)

Prof. Geo. B. Zehmer visited his home in McKenney during the past week-end.

"Duc" "Bill" Heard spent the week-end some other place than here. It is rumored among the jealous fair sex that he has a girl. Shame on you, Bill!

F. L. Ford had relatives visiting him at the college last Sunday.

Miss Louise Waters, "alumna," visited the college on Sunday; so did Mr. "Greasy" Stewart. Quite coincidental, say we.

Please be kind enough to give personals either to Monk White, or drop them in the Flat Hat Box.

George F. Price, alumnus, is still visiting with us. He seems to be a regular member of the student body. Stick around, George, we're glad to have you with us.

H. W. Vaden was at the college on Monday.

WOMEN'S LITERARY SOCIETIES

Are you interested in literary work? If so, we, the White Hall and the J. Lesslie Hall Literary Societies are just what you are looking for. Why not try out both of these societies and then join the one in which you think you can do the best work? But do not lose any time in making your decision.

These societies meet every Saturday night. They are instructive, entertaining, and a great help in developing self expression. Is it not this what you need?

Mabel Stratton is president of the White Hall Society and her program committee is planning a program on historic, old places of Williamsburg. Do not miss it on Saturday evening, October 14th.

Virginia Thomson is president of the J. Lesslie Hall Society and this society will formally install all those who wish to become active, working members of the society on Saturday, October 14th, at 7:15.

Both societies give all who are interested a cordial, urgent invitation to take a stand with one or the other.

With The Poets and Wags

The Flat Hat comes out once a week,
To give you all the news;
This column fellow'll always seek,
To drive away the blues.

Each time you'll find some ditty sweet,
Some comfort or "fandangal,"
And sometimes we even might repeat,
A bit of choicest scandal.

LETTER FROM V. P. I.

Dear Pa:

I am back again after that spiffy trip we took to the military college at Blacksburg. It shore was a bird of a trip. We had one of them cars that unfolded on the inside just like Ant Carrie's bed used to do fore it fell to pieces.

The coach tole me I was in upper 6. I found it, and after several tries at it with a small stepladder, I fell and broke the ladder. I then went to the coach and tole him I wanted to sleep downstairs for fear I might hurt myself. He said that couldn't be done because the team had only so much money. He went on to say that the lower was higher than the upper, and that the upper was lower than the lower, that when I got up in the upper I got down and that I got up when I was down in the lower without having to get down in the morning. I never could understand just what he meant about the lower being higher than the upper and the upper being lower than the higher.

Well, sir, when I had got in the birth (thats what they called 'em) I discovered a hammock in it which I supposed was meant for folks to sleep in what won't used to sleeping so high up. I never could get into it though so I just took a chance and slept right out in the open.

I didn't have any room for my shoes up there so I just tied them to the head of my bed by the strings and let them hang down. The man that slept in the place underneath me must not have liked it very much for when I found them next morning they was hanging from the rear platform.

I played so well at V. P. I. the coach says that he is going to leave me to home for a rest until we meet the strong Camp Eustis team. See what a player I am.

Fluently,
HAM.

Even nature changes. It has been found from the Intelligence Tests of the freshmen that coral is obtained from elephants and that a Korean has eight legs.

Young lady, seeing Mr. Zehmer walking down Jamestown Road with a lady and two children, exclaimed: "Goodness, I didn't even know he was married."

Dr. Hart (In Public Health): "What is the lumbar? Who knows what the lumbar is? Nobody knows that; I am surprised."

One of the "Twins": "I always thought it was a pile of planks."

Dr.: "This is the third time you have been late to class. Don't you know you can't stay the night of time?"

Fish: "Oh, I don't know. I just stopped a couple of minutes down the street."
—Mugwump.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW HERE TODAY

the historical data about William and Mary and the vicinity have been prepared, and were distributed among the delegates today.

As the Flat Hat has no opportunity of wishing the distinguished visitors welcome, it takes this chance to wish them well in their work, and hopes that the visit to William and Mary, "Mother of Presidents," has been a pleasure—and a revelation—to them.

FLAT HAT CLUB MEETS FOR THE SECOND TIME

the college were discussed. Dr. Young, as host, presided. Meetings of the club are always informal. Refreshments, consisting of punch and cake, were served by Dr. Young.

The Club accepted the invitation of Professor Gooch to hold the next meeting at his home on Friday, October 14th.

Names of various students have been proposed for membership, and will be voted upon at the next meeting. Scholarship, literary, athletic, and all-round college ability are qualifications considered.

Five members did not return to college. C. S. Moorman, editor of the Colonial Echo last year, won a degree; John Bentley is now a missionary at Anvik, Alaska; S. E. Gunn is a student at the Medical College of Virginia; Haley Settle is principal of the Warsaw High School, and Reginald Kinney is attending Harvard.

TRINKLE ENTERTAINED AT COLLEGE SATURDAY

distinguished visitor and C. M. Hall, R. L. Spencer, Norvell L. Henley, and L. W. Lane, Jr., Senator Trinkle, when called on for a speech, expressed himself as very glad of the opportunity to visit the old college. He promised, if elected governor, to do everything he could to help the college maintain her high standards, and in his speech at night, stated that he would try to secure for the college a new dormitory for men on the same lines as the one recently given by the State to the college for women students.

dents will also meet all trains the night before and the morning of the installation, to be of service to the delegates who will reach Williamsburg for the exercises at that time.

The women students living in Jefferson Hall will stay with the people of Williamsburg the nights of October 18 and 19, and Jefferson Hall will be thrown open to house the distinguished company from all over the United States.

All the plans for the Installation Day program have been finally completed or will be by the time this issue of the Flat Hat appears, and the students and alumni will have been advised of any changes by announcement in chapel or by way of the bulletin board.

STUDENTS CELEBRATE VICTORY WITH BONFIRE

Miss "Duc" Zehmer was accompanied by her brother, "Duc" Zehmer, in the song end of the affair, which was very enjoyable.

The spirit of 1693 was prevalent at all times with "Bob" Phillips in charge of ceremonies, assisted by "Dizzy" Davis and Charles Duke, yet there seemed to be something lacking that used to make the old bonfires. The annual shirt parade was not, and only one short snake dance evinced the delight of the student body.

What do you say—let's save our bonfires for our major victories, such as those over Richmond, and then have a regular fire and prearranged program with more rallies to be held over in the Jeff Hall between times?

Pictures at the Palace This Week

SHOWS AT 4, 7, 8:30 P. M.

MONDAY

Lavish sets, gorgeous feminine costumes and beautiful scenic backgrounds have come to be accepted ingredients in Cecil B. DeMille's special production. "Old Wives for New," hailed by the critics as one of the greatest of the many great film dramas which he has given to the screen, is no exception to this rule.

Also Kinograms.

TUESDAY

In order to supply the locale for the island scenes in "Male and Female," founded on Sir James M. Barrie's famous play, "The Admirable Crichton," Cecil B. DeMille, producer of this latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, coming to the Palace theatre, arranged to film this part of the action on Santa Cruz Island in the Pacific Ocean, just off the California coast.

Also one reel comedy.

WEDNESDAY

Introducing Gloria Swanson and Bebe Daniels, catch-as-catch-can battlers extraordinary!

For the benefit of a battery of of cameras, these two talented members of Cecil B. DeMille's all-star motion picture company recently staged a battle that will go down in screen history as one of the wildest and most destructive hand-to-hand conflicts ever filmed.

The fight was promoted by Cecil B. DeMille in the interests of his Paramount Artcraft production, "Why change your wife?" which is coming to the Palace theatre.

Also two reel comedy.

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Securing $30,000 worth of furniture for a single interior setting and then smashing the outfit before the camera produces photoplay realism, but at a well-nigh prohibitive cost. Yet that is what Cecil B. DeMille did in his Paramount production, "The Affairs of Anatol," which will be shown at the Palace theatre next Thursday and Friday.

The setting in question serves as a background for a part of the story portrayed by Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Bebe Daniels, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts and other all-star players. It is an ultra-luxurious apartment and Howard Higgin, production manager for Cecil B. DeMille productions, was instructed to spare no expense.

SATURDAY

Also Snooky, the humanized monkey, in a two reel knockout, "Snook's Turn Trouble."

This is a great week for movie fans. All Cecil DeMille's greatest successes.
